Mum first for winner

George had to miss VIP night

By ALLAN CRISP

Latest local hero George Kollias was less than popular with the soccer fraternity on Wednesday night when he failed to attend the Living Health Premier League Player of The Year awards dinner at the Hyatt Regency.

But the Olympians striker put family before fame when he arrived home before the dinner to find his mother (Irene) suffering a severe bout of food poisoning.

Kollias had been slogging it out on the training track with the Adelaide Sharks and had intended to rush home before showering and donning his carefully prepared tuxedo, lovingly laid on his bed by his mother.

"Mum has been having troubles with heart and chest pains recently so, when I saw how distressed she was, I took no chances and drove her to the Ashford Hospital straight away," Kollias said.

Mrs Kollias was detained in hospital overnight for observation and was released yesterday.

Kollias, who was among the top 10 Sergio Meita Medal candidates last season as well as for Wednesday night's count, gave himself little chance of success.

"It was very much a surprise to win," he said. "I was so involved in worrying over Mum, that I wasn't aware of the trouble I caused by not being at the awards night."

To set the record straight, Kollias yesterday issued a public apology. He said he regretted not being able to attend the function and wished to apologise to all who attended, particularly his peers who were candidates for the coveted award, the South Australian Soccer Federation officials and the award presenters, Premier John Olsen and former Adelaide City champion Sergio Meita.

"I'd like also to thank my coach (Zoran Maricic) for accepting the medal on my behalf and the tributes he paid to me," the articulate 22-year-old said.

"I know Zoran was trying to make excuses for me, but I can't agree with him that I'm shy. I hope everyone realises my absence was unavoidable. Mum had my tux all laid out on my bed ready for me when I got home from training and I was looking forward to the evening."

A one-club man, Kollias, who started his soccer career with Unley Primary School and with Thebarton Asteras before it changed its name to Olympians, recalls he made his senior debut as a 15-year-old for Olympians against Raiders in a cup game.

"I remember the game well because I was marked by West Adelaide champion Robbie Slager," he said.

Kollias described training with the Sharks as a "cultural shock".

"I've had a tremendous amount of encouragement from the senior Sharks players, Con Kokkinoplitis, Branko Milosevic and Alex Kuzmanovic. Pablo Cardozo is back from Portugal and George Slifkas is trialling at Thebarton, so it won't be easy to make the squad. I like Adrian Santrac's style of play. I'd be willing to be patient in waiting for a chance to break into the team."

Kollias has two more weeks to impress at Thebarton's "Shark Park" with Sunday's friendly match against A-League newcomer Carlton as his next big test.
